Kreis Plans For Cameron Center Told

Cantonese-Type Restaurant Will Replace 'Springs'

Hand-crafted tikis from 18 to 30 feet high will tower over the main entrance of "Aloha Jhoe's," the new Cantonese style restaurant that will replace the $750,000 Springs Restaurant at Palm Springs' Cameron Center.

Scheduled to open early next year as a Milton F. Kreis enterprise, the new construction will cost George Cameron, Jr., Cameron Center owner, a quarter of a million dollars.

Aloha Jhoe's will be a crown-jewel feature of a three-story operation. The other units will be a swanky ice cream parlor and a coffee shop, both named Jeffrey's for the operator's 16-year-old son.

The restaurant operation will be comprised of four different rooms, each exquisitely styled in Oriental-flavored decor. The primary unit, the main dining room, will be known as the "Tiki Room."

It will be dominated by a huge tiki that has been especially designed and carved for Aloha Jhoe's by native craftsmen in Hawaii.

A ROOFED DINING terrace boasting a huge fire pit and decorated with carved idols will adjoin the Tiki Room. Through the use of sliding-screens the terrace can be separated from the main dining room for private parties and luaus.

Other Aloha Jhoe units will be a cocktail lounge, a dining room featuring ottoman seating and an oval-shaped room that will offer dining and, through the employment of a portable bandstand, dancing and entertainment.

William F. Cody, whose illustrious 14-year-old career in architecture was climaxed recently when he designed the Eldorado Country Club's fabulous $1,000,000 clubhouse, is handling the architectural planning of Aloha Jhoe's.

AMERICAN LEGION WILL GO TO COURT AGAINST '40 AND 8'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The American Legion today promised legal action against the "white-only" clause in the constitution of its fun-loving affiliate, the 40 and 8.

National Commander Martin B. McKneally ordered the court test after 40 and 8 officials refused to drop the anti-Negro clause. McKneally's order followed a mandate issued by the Legion's convention in Minneapolis last August.

Asphalt Plant May Be Fought By City Council

An impending fight against the locating of an asphalt and concrete batching plant to the north of Palm Springs was strengthened yesterday when Indio Attorney Gordon Cologne, representing Inland Valley Sand and Gravel, asked the City Council not to fight the issue before the Board of Supervisors next Monday.

The council indicated that it would like to investigate the matter before reaching a decision, and Dan Wagner, city manager, said that he has asked Supervisor George Berkey to request a hearing on the matter.

Heavy opposition to the construction of the plant is expected from Noel Clarke, owner of the Ranch Club development, and the city which passed a resolution at its last meeting opposing the plant. Operators of the proposed plant said they were going to do all in their power to stop the making of dust from that area, and also contended that the wind would not carry dust into the resort community.

Three Survivors Brought From Scene of Tragedy

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — A Philadelphia to Cleveland plane carrying 25 persons crashed into a mountain today while preparing to land in a driving snowstorm. Allegheny Airline officials in Washington said at least three persons, two in critical condition, survived the crash. An official of Williamsport Hospital said he understood there were four survivors.

A HELICOPTER, FIRST to reach the crash scene in a densely wooded area halfway up the 2,500-foot mountain, brought out one survivor and returned to the scene with a physician.

The twin-engine Martin 202 had made an initial approach to the Williamsport - Montoursville Airport in the storm but was waved off and told to circle the field for another landing attempt. The control tower reported the plane should have circled to the north but the craft was not visible in the snow. The crash occurred on the mountain south of the airport.

THE HELICOPTER pilot reported the survivor he picked up had been thrown clear of the wreckage and into a tree. The survivor was being taken to Divine Providence Hospital here.

The helicopter, from the Olmstead Air Force Base at Middletown, Pa., was the only vehicle to reach the spot. It took doctors from Williamsport to the scene. An emergency call for all available doctors and nurses was broadcast.

CITY MASTER PLAN TO ENVISION MALL, INDUSTRIAL PARK

A revolutionary master plan for Palm Springs that would give the city a downtown shopping mall and its first specifically-planned industrial park gets a formal presentation at 8 p.m., tonight, in City Hall.

Simon Eisner, the planning consultant who has mapped long-range planning for two scores of Southland communities, will be presented to members of the City Council and the public at large in the special meeting.

The plan projects suggested usage of land within the Village through the year 2000.

Gates Replaces Neil McElroy in Defense Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today announced the resignation of Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and named Undersecretary Thomas S. Gates Jr., to succeed him.

The announcement came after a National Security Council meeting this morning where the President presented the Medal of Freedom to McElroy "in recognition of his outstanding service to his country and his dedication to his task."

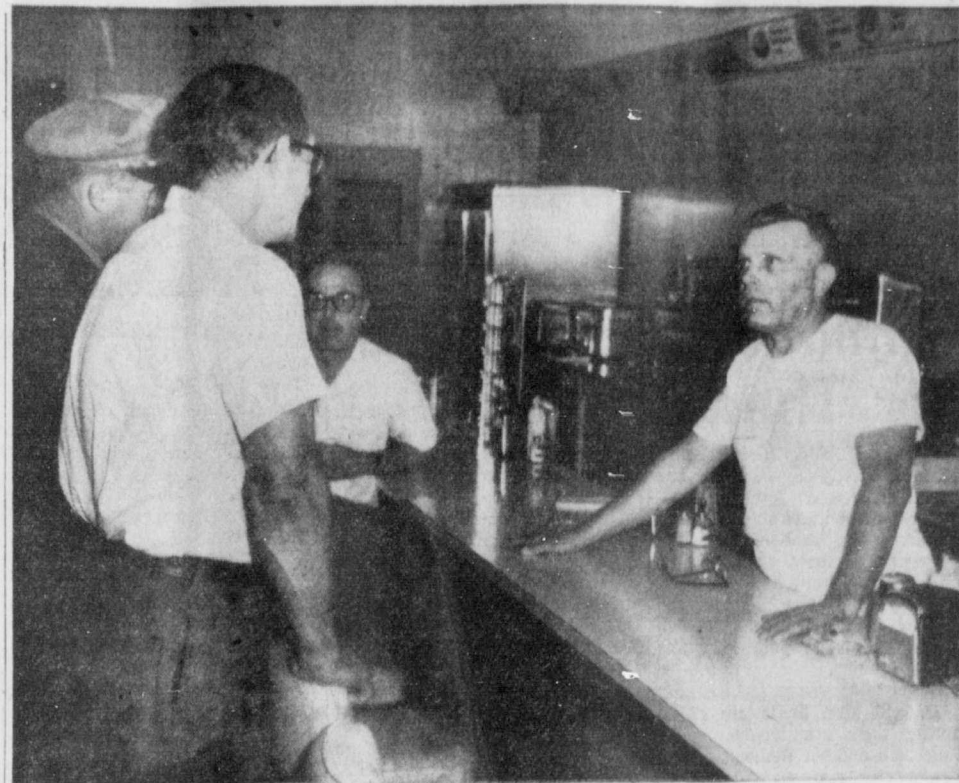

McELROY'S RESIGNATION was effective today.

In an exchange of letters between McElroy and Eisenhower made public by the White House, McElroy said that "personal reasons of an urgent nature" necessitated his resignation after two years in the top defense job.

McElroy, 54, plans to return to Procter & Gamble, the soap manufacturing firm he headed before joining the Eisenhower Cabinet in 1957.

HELISPOT SITES SOUGHT IN CITY

A search has started in downtown Palm Springs for a helicopter landing spot, which is designed to bring people to the central business district from the area south of the resort community.

Edwin N. Saville, president of Mercury Helicopter Service, Inc., appeared before the City Council Monday to ask for permission to start a local helicopter service, with a helispot located in downtown Palm Springs.

A HELISPOT and heliport are two separate operations, with the latter having all fueling and repair services available, and a helispot used for landings and take-offs only.

The council has tentatively approved the start of helicopter service for Palm Springs, and has directed that the administration work with the Mercury Helicopter Service in setting up the proposed landing sites. The Palm Springs Airport will be used as the main landing site.

IT IS THE plan of the company, according to Saville, to have service from Palm Springs to many of the golf courses in the Winter Golf Capital of the World.

Pink Palace Owner Jailed In New Tiff

Groves Vows He'll Open and Re-Open; City Readies Arrest

BULLETIN

Ed Groves, owner of the Pink Palace ice cream parlor, entered innocent pleas today to two counts of failure to pay his city license fee today in Judge Eugene Theriault's Justice Court here.

Judge Theriault set Groves' jury trial for 9 a. m., Dec. 30.

City jail doors swung open again last night for ice cream parlor operator Ed Groves in the latest action on the city's business license front.

And it appeared that they would swing open for a fourth time today.

Groves, proprietor of the Pink Palace ice creamery, was ushered into his cell by Capt. Orest Johnson at 6:30 p.m. yesterday after the embattled businessman opened his shop in defiance of a city order to remain closed.

CAPTAIN JOHNSON ordered the Palace closed for a third time last night, on charges that Groves hasn't paid his business license. But Groves said he doesn't plan to stay closed.

He said he would open again today and the city was expected to make a fourth arrest and closure.

"We'll just arrest him and close the place again," City Attorney Jerry Bunker said this morning.

Last night's Pink Palace action followed by a few hours Groves' filing of a new $500,000 damage claim against the city. The first, rejected by the City Council, sought $31,500.

IT STARTED Nov. 29, when the city first arrested Groves and closed his business because of his steadfast refusal to pay a $100 business license fee.

The shop was closed for the same reason last night, and Groves was again booked into city jail. He was released a few minutes later on a $105 bond, the same amount of bail posted for his first arrest.

Earlier yesterday, Attorney William O. Burt, representing Groves, filed a tort claim with the city asking $500,000 for damages to Groves and his business. It was expected to meet the same fate as a similar claim filed last week.

BURT HAD FILED a tort claim for $31,500 in damages but the City Council passed a resolution denying the claim when City Attorney Bunker advised that Groves would have to show that he has won a court case against the city in order to sue for malicious prosecution, a charge that has been the basis for the businessman's stand against the city business license ordinance.

'DRUNKEN WALKING' RAP FILED AGAINST DOWNEYITE BY CHP

INDIO — A 43-year-old Downey man escaped with his life — but was cited for "drunken walking" — following an auto-pedestrian mishap on Highway 99 yesterday. California Highway Patrol officers reported that James Lawson Hughes was cited for "intoxicated walking" in addition to failure to yield to an automobile at other than a crossing and for endangering the safety of himself and others.

The CHP said that Hughes suffered cuts and bruises when he walked into Highway 99 — 600 feet north of the Highway 60-70 intersection — and was sideswiped by an auto driven by Robert Lopez Palomares, 24, of Coachella.

Thus far, however, Groves has failed to win either of his two days at court.

The first time, Superior Judge Merrill Brown refused to issue a preliminary injunction to permit Groves to refuse payment of a $100 license fee and continue his business operation.

THIS COURT ACTION, on Nov. 20, was followed by Groves' arrest and the padlocking of his business.

A few days later, Justice Court Judge Eugene Theriault overruled a demurrer filed by Burt and denied a motion for dismissal of the case.

Today, Groves has his third chance at bat. He was scheduled to appear before Judge Theriault on charges of not paying his business license fee.

MEANWHILE, GROVES last night indicated that he would re-open his Pink Palace as often as the city closed it.

Today, the Pink Palace was apparently open for business as usual.

A telephone call to the ice cream parlor brought the reluctant admission from a waitress (Groves wasn't there) that the parlor was indeed open.

And Bunker was just as certain that the Palace would be closed again before the day is through.

L.A.'s Crime Tops State

First In All Classes Says J. Edgar Hoover

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported yesterday that Los Angeles led the state in every major crime category during the first 10 months of 1959.

Hoover's quarterly report also showed Los Angeles was first in the number of aggravated assault cases with 4,959 compared with 6,668 in New York.

SAN FRANCISCO was second place in California in every crime category except larceny.

Twelve California cities were included in the FBI nation-wide report which showed the vicious crimes — murder, rape, stabbings, and aggravated assault — were on the definite upswing through the United States.

Such crimes jumped from 4 to 7 per cent during the 10-month period while the over-all crime rate dropped an "insignificant" 1 per cent.

CALIFORNIA CITIES included Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach, San Diego, Fresno, Glendale, San Francisco, Sacramento, Richmond, San Jose, Oakland and Berkeley.

California was well behind the top U.S. cities in the murder and non-negligent manslaughter category. New York led the nation with 247, while Los Angeles and Houston, Tex., were fourth with 89 such offenses. San Francisco reported 27; Oakland, 11; San Diego 8; Long Beach, 7; Fresno, 5; Sacramento, 4; Richmond and Berkeley, 3; Glendale and San Jose, 2; and Pasadena, 0.

THE HIGHEST crime rate was in the burglary and breaking and entering division. Los Angeles led the state with 21,302 and San Francisco followed with 4,199. The lowest number of such crimes was in Berkeley — 376.

Auto theft, which showed a 1 per cent decrease throughout the nation, was frequent in Los Angeles with 9,049 cases listed. Berkeley reported only 101 auto thefts.

OTHER CRIMES and the cities reporting the highest and lowest instances of the crime included: Robbery: Los Angeles, 3,019; San Francisco, 891; Glendale, 19. Assault: Los Angeles, 4,959; San Francisco 827; Glendale 8.

Larceny over $50: Los Angeles 14,922; San Diego 1,745; Berkeley, 150.

Race for the White House

NEW ORLEANS — Even the snow and blizzards in the Middle West have not prevented the generation of heat on the coming presidential race as the hopefuls tour the plains.

On this swing we talked to many experts, candidates, king-makers and those whose full-time job is politics. It appears that most candidates have stage fright in announcing their intentions for publication at this time.

IT MUST SEEM rather ridiculous to the public for some of the candidates for the presidency, now traveling throughout the country, to suggest coyly that they are not running, "don't know," or are not interested.

This is the case with Governor Rockefeller and Adlai Stevenson. We have never seen two men running faster after the White House than Governors Rockefeller and Stevenson at the present time.

SPEAKING FRANKLY and without political emotion, the consensus of those in the know is that the race will be between Vice-President Nixon and Adlai Stevenson.

It also appears that Adlai Stevenson will have an overwhelming advantage over Vice-President Nixon, primarily due to the 15 million Democratic registration superiority over the Republicans across the nation.

SINCE THE ELECTION of 1956 the Democrats have gained over three times more new registrations than the Republicans. Experts say that unless the Republicans can break into the Democratic and independent voters in a big way, the Democratic candidate will be elected. Barring miracles there is no one in the Republican ranks who can stop Vice - President Nixon from the nomination. Not even the White House, or Nixon's Republican foes.

NIXON IS THE best-known, the best-equipped and the most popular Republican in the nation and there is no one in sight who can challenge him. The abortive effort of Governor Rockefeller to steal the nomination is supported by a few Nixon opponents within the Republican party who will continue to try to stop him at any cost . . . even the cost of Rockefeller's chances for 1964.

It is a political pity to throw the New York governor into the race in 1960 under such overwhelming odds, instead of grooming him for the race four years hence.

WHILE IT IS NOT publicly admitted, most of the political experts confide privately that Senator John Kennedy's Roman Catholic faith is definitely against him. Of course it should not be so, but it is a fact of present U. S. politics.

But even if this were not against him politically, Senator Kennedy appears to most professionals as too young, without stature or experience for the office of president, or even vice-president.

THE PROFESSIONALS act astonished when Senator Kennedy's name comes up for presidential discussion. Most of them can not even understand how he has gone this far in the consideration for the race.

He appears very popular in the East and parts of the Middle West among the rank and file . . . but the professional just shakes his head, "that money, glamour and a well-organized campaign does not appear enough to put him over."

GOVERNOR BROWN of California, Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas just don't have it, are not well enough known nationally to be serious contenders for the Democratic nomination. It is not likely that any of them would even be considered for second place on the ticket.

Speaker Sam Rayburn's announcement that he will serve as campaign manager for Senator Johnson is nothing more than a friendly gesture to recognize an old colleague.

AT THIS WRITING it appears that Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and President Harry S. Truman's protege from Missouri, Senator Stuart Symington, are the leaders in the race for the Democratic nomination.

The popular polls still favor Senator Kennedy in the East and Middle West but, like in the British and other elections, the polls do not take into account the advantage of professional politicians and the enormous vote power they control.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S recent comment in Kansas City, that Senator Symington should be on the ticket, appears to suggest that the Missouri Senator would settle for the vice-presidency.

A Stevenson - Symington ticket, it appears, would be the strongest and the most difficult for the Republicans to beat.

THE POLITICAL experts give Stevenson the nod, even though he is a two-time loser. This choice is confirmed nationally. Stevenson is the best - known and most popular Democrat across the nation. He speaks three languages.

He's had the most foreign experience than any of the other candidates of his party. He certainly is the most respected Democrat abroad and best known. He has stature within his own party. He certainly is better equipped generally with experience at home and abroad than any other candidate for the Democratic nomination.

WHILE SOME polls seem to favor Senator Kennedy, it appears that the Senator cannot even come close to the qualifications of Adlai Stevenson for the White House, in experience and political maturity.

At this writing it appears that Stevenson and Symington will survive the controversy between the New Deal faction of Chairman Paul Butler, Roosevelt - Lehman - Finletter, as against the conservative faction of Rayburn-Johnson-Lausche.

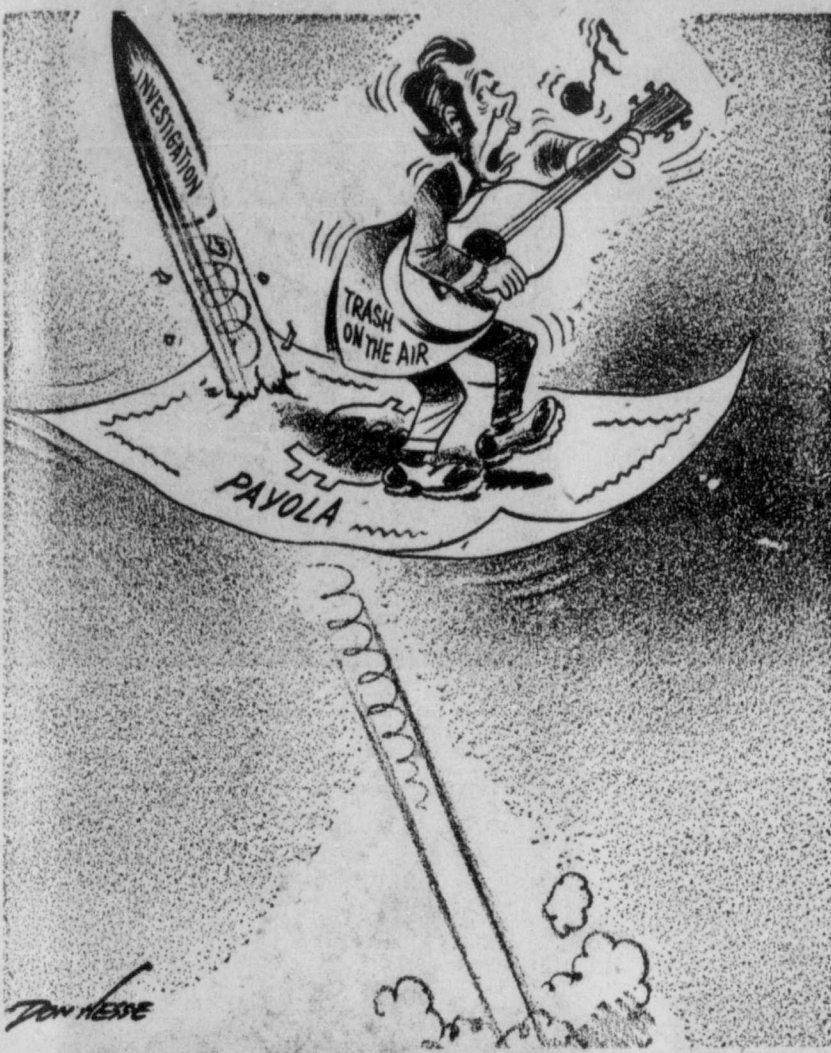

AS OF TODAY THE odds favor the Democrats to win the White House in 1960. But the Republicans have gained considerably since the 1958 defeat. Vice-President Nixon's popularity has increased enormously among the Independents . . . and the Republican ranks are closing behind him.

If prosperity and peace are in the wind next year, Nixon's chances will improve considerably.

THIS IS NOT pleasant to bring up, but it is being discussed among the experts . . . that the President may not complete his term.

In spite of appearances, President Eisenhower is not well. He is now the oldest president ever to be in office. He has not recovered from his recent illnesses fully. If Vice-President Nixon is forced into the White House by such tragic circumstances, to fill out the term, his chances for election in November 1960 will be greatly enhanced. —John Morley

Palm Springs is changing. Many things I miss. But, gosh, at least I can still reminisce.

Palm Springs with the desert area, from the mouth of the Pass clear beyond Salton Sea, is growing and booming. It's not like it used to be.

This is undoubtedly all for the good — but sometimes I wonder.

AMONG THE THINGS I really miss is that old bull horn which used to sit on top of the fire station, the old fire station on North Palm Canyon Drive.

I miss that noontime double full-throated blast.

You didn't have to look at your watch. You knew it was twelve o'clock straight up. Except once in a while the boys were a few seconds late in checking THEIR watches.

AND THEN, it was nice in the middle of the night to wake up and hear that old horn blast signals to tell the volunteers the location of the blaze.

Nice, because although you felt sorry for the people who were having the fire, you didn't have to get up. You knew a couple of the boys from the office were there, hastily dressed and looking dozy, covering the fire with camera and pencil.

BEFORE THAT, Palm Springs had one paid fireman, the chief.

The rest of the staff were the volunteers who happily stopped whatever they were doing, to go out and fight the conflagration, as all were called in those days.

The fire truck was a converted Model A Ford. Half of the time the battery was dead.

And when the siren sounded at the old Desert Inn garage, the first task of the volunteers was to push the truck to get it started.

THINKING BACK to that old bull horn recalls one of the finest examples of independent thinking and refusal to be swayed by mass hysteria I have ever experienced.

City Council, in a rash moment, decreed that Palm Springs would sound Sun Time in the winter. And the city went one hour ahead of the rest of the nation.

There was great confusion in train and bus schedules, long distance telephone calls, radio programs and the like.

BUT BILL LEONESIO, the fire chief, refused to be stampeded.

He remained on standard time.

And when it was twelve o'clock by his watch, he blew the standard two blasts on the bull horn.

Everybody else in town had one o'clock.

It almost took a court order to have that horn sounded at 11 a.m. (PST), noon, Palm Springs Sun Time.

I'll always praise Bill for his independent spirit.

SOME THINGS, however, haven't changed.

There is still talk about a bypass highway, the improvement of Highway 111 to the east and the Tramway.

Just as there was twenty years ago.

STAN DELAPLANE:

'Wishing You Joys..'

Have you thought of Christmas cards yet? It is not too early — might even be too late and you will have to air mail the overseas ones. That costs.

My Christmas cards have arrived. Don't feel badly about it. I am an executive type of cat. Always looking ahead. Everything in its place — except the can opener. We took that out the other day to mend the light switch. It dropped over the fence and I have been feeling too poorly to shag over and get it.

I GUESS YOU wonder why I mend light switches with can openers? Well, that is a funny one. My 4-year-old son has the screwdriver out somewhere. He refuses to tell where it is. "Tell Daddy. Where did you put the screwdriver?"

"Nope."

"You want me to beat you?"

"Nope."

THEN TELL I tell you what. You tell me, and I'll tell you a WONDERFUL story with a bunny rabbit who hid a screwdriver. And when he gave it back, his Daddy gave him a great big carrot!

"Nope."

That child is no black canary. He will not sing. He will not rat on his pals. If he is not careful, I will not send him a Christmas card.

THESE ARE beautiful cards. I had them done in England. You cannot be more "In," you cannot be more "U" than that.

They cost me 15 pounds, 10 shillings and a thrupence, cully.

Next year I will deal with a firm that charges in guineas. That is even more "U," more "In."

A GUINEA IS a pound plus a shilling. There is no such English coin. But all the smart shops mark their wares in guineas. Pounds are so common, don't you think?

A pound is $2.80 in not-so-common dollars. A shilling is about 14 common cents. So you can see my cards cost me about 45 skins, U.S.

THE PICTURE ON the front is "St. James's at Christmas at the turn of the Century."

VERY "U."

I had a choice. I turned down

I finally wrapped them in — I wish the Band-Aid people did not get so mad when you say Band-Aid. We use them for wrapping wires all the time. But when you say it, the Band-Aid lawyer writes you a note asking you NEVER to mention the name again.

ANYWAY, WE wrapped them in you-know-what. And the electrician is coming today — at prices you wouldn't believe; these cats must all drive Bentleys at such prices.

He is coming today. He wants me to handcuff the child to a water pipe while he is here. Because he said the last time, he was missing a pipe wrench. And the boy will not tell what he did with it. Swallowed it for all I know.

I will pay the electrician in guineas. And send him a Christmas card. Everything is "U" around here. And I mean "In," cats, strictly "In."

GRIN AND BEAR IT By LICHTY

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Inside Track

HOLLYWOOD—MGM is making so much money on "Ben-Hur" ($3.50 top at Loew's State Theatre on Broadway and sold out for every screening!) it looks like the studio will be able to afford the all-time top asking price for any show.

The show is Mary Martin's smash Broadway musical, "The Sound of Music," and the men with whom Metro has the inside track are producers Leiland Hayward and Dick Halliday (Mary's husband), songwriters Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, and playwrights Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse. Some track — $3,000,000 cash!

JAYNE MANSFIELD, who just finished shooting "Too Hot to Handle" in London, will make another overseas hop in January to shoot "The Loves of Hercules." She'll co-star with her husband, Mickey Hargitay. They are hard at work lifting weights to build up their respective measurements, since the picture will be shot in widescreen.

Metro made a big to-do with publicity stories about how it would "spring" Rusty Tamblyn from the U. S. Army before his stretch with Uncle Sam is officially over — for the role of Billy the Kid in the studio's remake of Edna Ferber's "Cimarron." Such a BIG to-do, indeed, that the Army just ain't springin' Pfc. Tamblyn.

DANNY THOMAS introduced Joey Bishop at Joey's big-time Hollywood kickoff in the Sunset Strip's Cloister — and spent 25 minutes doing it. Danny stayed so long, indeed, that when Joey finally made his appearance he cracked, "Gee, Danny, I didn't know you wanted the job that bad."

Silent screen comedienne Babe London, on a comeback kick, landed the role of "Amanda Cadwallader, traveling saleslady for The Paddy-Pad Braserie Company" in Allied Artists' "Teacher vs. Sexton."

FOX PRODUCER Sam Engel brave man, is starting his first independently produced movie at his home lot without any "star insurance." It's "The Story of Ruth," with Elna Eden and Thayer David in the leading roles — and the budget's brave too: $4,700,000! . . . P.S.: Young David got his head shaved for his part. Hollywood terminology: "He got yulbrynnered."

A character wearing a sweatshirt failed to crash the Crescendo to catch a comedian's act. Comedian: Mort Sahl, wearing a sweatshirt!

HERE'S THE morning line in Hollywood today on Oscar's five best-picture nominees for 1959: "Ben-Hur," "The Diary of Anne Frank," "Suddenly Last Summer," "The Fugitive Kind" and "On the Beach" (paste the list in your hat and, comes April and the Academy Award telecast, remember you read 'em here first).

Kaye Ballard bows in with a new kind of air-conditioning system for movie theatres, comes summer: "A movie FAN in every seat!"

CHANNEL CHATTER — TV

can't get "The Music Man" so they'll be telecasting the next best thing — a TV version of Meredith Willson's book, "But He Doesn't Know the Territory." It tells all about the tough time "Music Man"-maker Meredith had getting his magnificent musical show produced.

LA disk jockey Johnny Grant invented his own rating system for his own show. Every 4:45 p.m. Johnny tells his listeners (including those driving along LA's suicide - making Freeways!) to turn on their headlights (City Ordinance: "All headlights must be turned on at 4:45 p.m.") . . . A few seconds later the operator of the traffic-light helicopter owned by Johnny's station, KMPC, is cut in on Johnny's program with a tally of how many lights he counted flashing on, as cued by Grant.

STRANGEST publicity handout of the week, a rundown on the plot of a Day in Court segment for TV editors, from KABC-TV's publicity department. "An expectant bride seeks a court order to prevent her alcoholic mother from attending her wedding!" (Exclamation point is KABC-TV's, not mine).

Comedian Jackie Gleason is The Actor of the Season in Broadway's "Take Me Along," a comedy role, true, but a demanding one based on Eugene O'Neill's "Ah! Wilderness." And that's why Jackie has decided to go a step beyond it in a heavily dramatic TV special, "Death of a Man." He'll double into it from his Main Stem stint.

ANOTHER SPECIAL, coming up in January, will co-star Louis Prima and Keely Smith. A musical, it will be titled "The Famous Door," and it's no coincidence that Louis was once the big draw at a famous Broadway nightclub called The Famous Door.

Seelig Lester is story consultant and associate producer of the Perry Mason series. He is also a collector of cliches, redundancies and tautologies (I know I'm being redundant when I team "redundancies" and "tautologies" in the same sentence but I'm trying to drive the point home).

LESTER'S PET peeves, out of a huge collection, are from scripts submitted to him. They include: "The honest truth," "A free gift," "In close proximity," "an old antique," "several young ingenues," "new innovations" and (his favorite) "a very rich millionaire."

Danny Kaye, the longest TV holdout among the comedians in Hollywood history aside from his two 90-minute films for the United Nations' International Children's Emergency Funds, made a fancy deal when he signed a three-year contract with General Motors. He will beam only one special a year. He will receive $500,000 per show.

HE WILL OWN each taped show after the initial beaming, for subsequent sale (by himself) to overseas TV and - or theatres, also for re-runs on U. S. television.

Crisis in Laborland

WASHINGTON, D. C. — There are governments within Government. There is Televisionland, Businessland, Collegeland and, for today's purposes, Laborland. Few of us know what takes place within the phantom cabinets and legislatures which run a government like Laborland, but periodically there are outcroppings of events which should be brought to public attention. For example:

On Nov. 13, 1959, Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) wrote a letter to Acting Chief Counsel Jerome Adlerman of the Senate Select (McClellan) Committee. This missive from Goldwater apparently triggered some fast action in the United Auto Workers, one of the principal states of Laborland.

ADLERMAN, WHO is Robert Kennedy's replacement on the McClellan Committee, was formally notified by Senator Goldwater that a Republican report concerning UAW affairs "is now nearly finished." The GOP report, as is well known to all who have followed the McClellan hearings, will offer testimonial proof that the UAW is the wild beast of unions—violent, vindictive, crime-ridden, business - busting where private enterprise is honest, business-cahooning where private enterprise is willing to practice collusion.

The key figure in this minority-opinion indictment of UAW is Richard Gosser, a senior vice president and for many years a henchman of the Laborland statesman, Walter Reuther.

ON NOV. 19, SIX days after the Goldwater announcement, there was a cabinet crisis and a purge in UAW's Solidarity House, the Union's capitol at Detroit. An inter-office memo announced that Reuther himself was taking over Gosser's portfolio as director of the UAW Competitive Shop Department, a position somewhat equivalent to being deputy boss of the political establishment of this million-member union.

It was also announced from Solidarity House that Gosser would take a lengthy vacation in Florida for reasons of "health," although Gosser himself declared that UAW physicians had just checked him over and found him fit.

PLAINLY, THIS is a major cabinet crisis in Laborland. Mr. Reuther was en route to Europe and had no comment, but the repercussions would roll like distant thunder. The 1960 presidential campaign is in full swing at home. What's bad for Laborland and especially for Walter Reuther is very bad for the Liberal Democratic Candidates Jack Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey.

On the other hand, anything that's bad for Laborland, the UAW and Reuther is very good for Democratic candidate Lyndon Johnson, whose Labor-approved voting record is under 60 per cent, and Republican Candidate Richard Nixon, who is a Laborland bogeyman.

IT TAKES LITTLE imagination to surmise why Reuther suddenly decided to sweep Gosser under the royal rug. Last August and September the Republicans of the McClellan Committee began to bore into Gosser's fantastic career in which he has admittedly accumulated baronial estates in Michigan and Florida, several private businesses and a mysterious income which today is under investigation at the Internal Revenue Service.

Senator Curtis of Nebraska and Robert Manuel, his counsel, carried the probe as far as they could until body-checked by the Democrats. But the real beginnings of Gosser's troubles are to be found in the UAW's own files. On my desk, as I write, is a photostatic copy of a six-page bill of complaint, dated June 7, 1950, brought by indignant UAW members against Brother Gosser before the International Executive Board of the Auto Workers.

GOSSER was charged in 23 counts with "waste and graft," and his removal from office was petitioned. The International Executive Board, which was and still is headed by Reuther, gave Gosser a whitewash.

So now we return to November, 1959, with these charges and supporting evidence about to be released by the Republicans of the McClellan Committee. What can Reuther do? The well-founded report from Solidarity House is that he tried to make Gosser resign all positions under UAW, but that Gosser refused. After all, Gosser was reelected senior vice president only last October with a term running till 1961.

HOW ELSE CAN Reuther remove him? Only by another hearing before the International Executive Board, which acquitted Gosser in 1950, and would now have to confess to the whitewash and admit that the Republican accusations are true.

What I have written is merely a once - over - lightly treatment of a subject which should and will stick in the news from now on. It will continue throughout the presidential nomination conventions next summer and into the presidential election of next autumn. It is not a finished story, but a running story, in which I hope to keep pace.

—Holmes Alexander

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Moscow will take part Dec. 17 in joint world-wide premieres of the American film "On the Beach," which deals with a handful of survivors of a nuclear war who are awaiting death from radiation.

Announcement of the Soviet participation was made Sunday by the film's producer and director, Stanley Kramer, who added that Moscow was the 18th major city to participate.

Kramer said Russian agreement to show the movie came in a cable from Alexandre Daykov, director of Sovexport Films, to Arnold M. Picker, vice president in charge of foreign sales for United Artists, which is releasing the picture.

PLAZA PREMIERES FILM TOMORROW

One of the most baffling mysteries to develop as an aftermath of World War II unfolds in Palm Springs Wednesday when the Plaza Theater screens the benefit West Coast premiere of "The House of the Seven Hawks."

The mystery involves the disappearance of a fabulous treasure in jewels and forms the plot for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture that sends actor Robert Taylor on one of the most exciting pursuits of his film career.

THE FILM MAKES its West Coast debut at the Plaza at 8 p.m., Wednesday, in a star-studded benefit performance for the Palm Springs Float Association.

Proceeds from the premiere will help finance the Palm Springs float entry in the Jan. 1 Rose Parade at Pasadena.

Produced by David E. Rose, "The House of Seven Hawks" co-stars Taylor with Nicole Maurey, whom fans will remember as Alec Guinness' delectable paramour in "Scapegoat."

ALSO STARRED are Linda Christian and Donald Wolfelt, who play key roles in screenwriter Jo Eisinger's screenplay of the Victor Canning thriller "The House of the Seven Hawks."

Directed by Richard Thorpe, the film deals with the disappearance of a treasure in gems looted from Holland by the Nazis. Largely filmed on location in Holland, the "Hawks" has background scenes in The Hague, the famed Hook of Holland and locations near Lie-den.

TAYLOR IS CAST as Johnny Nordley, skipper of a small cruiser, who becomes enmeshed in the plot when he agrees to sneak a man identified as "Anselm" across the North Sea into a small Dutch port.

After reaching the port, Nordley finds his mysterious passenger dead, apparently the victim of a heart attack.

But Nordley's suspicions are aroused when a girl named Elsa — Linda Christian — boards his boat and proceeds to search the effects of the man she claimed was her father.

TICKETS FOR THE premiere performance are now on sale, ranging from the $5 and $10 main floor and balcony seats to the Rose Lodge, for patrons, at $25 each.

Patron tickets also include a champagne supper at the Desert Inn following the show.

Tickets may be secured from the Palm Springs Float Association, at the Plaza Theater, or by calling FA 4-9981 or FA 5-2206.

A former director of the American Zion Community, Tachna is a brother-in-law and law partner of the Zion founder, Judge Bernard H. Rosenblat.

The weekly lecture series is free to the public, and will continue through the winter season.

Whitesides Sell Residence Here

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Whiteside have sold their residence in Tierra del Sol and returned to their former home at Corcoran Airport Ranch where they were called by the recent death of their son-in-law, Bill Halley, as the result of injuries received in an automobile collision.

They are presently residing with their daughter, Betty, and three grandchildren.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture figured out that enough cigarettes were produced in the world last year to make a "carpet" seven feet wide and one cigarette thick to reach from the earth to the moon.

EARL WILSON

Sex in Payola May Be Bared

NEW YORK — Love will rear its head in the music payola probe. Some disc jockies not only liked money — but female companionship. There was sort of a "romance department" set up particularly for out-of-town jockies who visited N. Y. A couple of d.j.'s liked Lolitas. One d.j. was in charge of arranging such companionship for other d.j.'s — and authorities have his name.

Some music groups reportedly had naughty girls on the payroll as "public relations assistants."

Payolas took other interesting forms. One publisher would casually mention, "I just saw a beautiful painting on 57th St." Presto, next day, it would appear on his wall. A recording exec would leave his office while discussing a possible record with a plugger — and the plugger would deposit cash in the second left drawer. Later that afternoon — presto, again! — the exec would open the drawer and discover some money somebody had mislaid there. What a surprise!

When they became "actors" — they'd forgotten their battling in the ring and now were interested in which was the better comedian. However, Rosenbloom came in one day and said to Waldron, "You know that line where you say 'You got very attractive hands' and I say, 'They should be — I never hit anybody with 'em,' well, that's got to go out. It ain't dignified!"

"If Alan Freed ever starts talking," a Tin Pan Alleyite groaned, "we'll all go to jail." "Toastmaster General" George Jessel, in typical jet age style, p.r.'d a N. Y. luncheon for Joseph Levine, producer of "Jack the Ripper," then hopped to L. A. to m.c. a dinner for the City of Hope — same day. Praising Levine's film exploitation courage, Jessel cracked: "He has made people come into the motion picture theaters — of course television is doing that now, too."

The Thanksgiving holiday crowd jammed Palm Springs this weekend . . . Traffic was bumper-to-bumper and three and four deep along Palm Canyon . . . there weren't any parking places . . . and only a dreamer tried to make left turns . . . The "no vacancy" signs were out . . . and guest cottages and guest rooms were filled with visitors . . . and the party-go-round was whirling . . . Ranch Club started its Sunday Brunch with a full house . . . and El Mirador was crammed too . . . The WAIF fashion show luncheon was the biggest weekend event . . . attended by practically every woman who could manage a ticket (it would have been even bigger . . . had there been more room) . . . Night clubs and restaurants were jammed . . . as the Village metamorphosed into a city again . . .

Saw Muriel and Lee Bering dining at Indian Wells Hotel the other evening . . . and Lee says they are making good progress on transforming the old Palm House and that they are planning a press preview about mid-December . . .

The Ralph Singers were at the same table we were . . . at Indian Wells anniversary dinner . . . and Joyce told me they jet to Honolulu tomorrow for a "long weekend" . . . planning to return next Tuesday . . . They will be joining some longtime friends of Ralph's . . . Also at our table were the Singers' Thanksgiving guests, the Leo Kennellys . . . They had been notified by the police that while they were down here . . . their Beverly Hills home had been ransacked . . . and poor Mrs. Kennelly not only lost jewels and furs . . . but all her Christmas gifts . . . that were already wrapped . . . and even her Christmas cards had been ripped open . . . She was understandably a little less than enthusiastic about Christmas shopping twice.

Ranch Club devotees turned out full force Sunday for the first of their Sunday Brunches . . .

Noel Clarke was there to greet the Brunch crowd . . . and maitre d' Roy Bradley dropped his continental pose and donned a paint-pony vest for the occasion.

At the Clarke table were the John McNabbs and B. B. Robinsons . . . The Charlie Irwins, Ben Spivaks, George Hearst and Letty Light were seated together . . . The Bill Wrigleys were there . . . and the Homer Hiltons . . . and Barney Gengenbach (he dropped in to get an announcement of the Wednesday night premiere at the Plaza . . . and stayed because he couldn't stop laughing at Sid Tomack) . . . who emceed Sunday's show . . .

Tomack (you may know him better as "Knobby Walsh" or from his appearances in "My Friend Irma") is in his third season with the Ranch Club Brunch . . . It was good to have the Hal White Trio and Clessa Williams there . . . and they started things off with a wild new interpretation of my favorite "I Love Paris" . . .

Orchestras kept coming and going from the bandstand . . . the Johnny Arch combo (HAVE to have Joe Spata or the Brunch show can't go on) . . . and Dave Burton and his Burton Boys from Saddle & Siroin . . . followed Hal White's group . . . Roberta Lee sang (and very well too) . . . and Tomack topped things off with an hilarious drunk routine.

Got acquainted with that fascinating cosmopolitan Joyce (Mrs. Robert) Markson over a candlelit dinner at Ethel's Hideaway the other evening . . . and heard how she was drawn into the hairdressing business . . . and wound up owning Caritas in Paris . . . and now two salons in Manhattan . . . and today is producing the world's most fabulous wigs that sell for hundreds of dollars . . .

The way the wig business developed is another interesting tale . . . It all happened when Givenchy brought his line of sack dresses here . . . and the dresses didn't look right on the short-haired models . . . so Caritas designed and made wigs with the bouffant look to achieve a proper silhouette . . . Mrs. Markson (her husband Robert and his brother Y. D. own Deep Well) revealed some of the interesting facets of this wig-making business (you may have read about it in Life . . . for she was featured in its pages three times in a year) . . . How her trained personnel can tell where you come from by the texture of your hair . . . How the single hairs are crocheted into the supple silk mesh . . . with colors blended to match any color hair (they never use dyes) . . . How she was stopped for speeding on a New York freeway and narrowly escaped being haled off to jail because she was wearing a wig . . . a different color from that listed on her driver's license (she was advised to get different licenses with different colors!) . . . How her magic wig-makers turned an unhappy baldheaded child who wouldn't talk because of her emotional upset . . . into a pretty curly-headed blonde child happy about everything . . . How certain women of the world sell their long hair for dowry money . . . How top name stars rely on wigs for impeccable and smart hair-dos.

All this was fascinating enough . . . but when she tried a blonde wig on me . . . I decided it had to come under the heading of . . . living it up in Palm Springs . . .

El Mirador's Starlite Patio was the scene of a cocktail buffet Sunday night . . . when Peggy and Wendell Hunt (it was Peggy's new resort collection that was the day before) entertained a few Palm Springs friends . . .

Chief Gerhard Knack personally presided over the buffet . . . and Tex Kidwell was there to play and sing . . .

The hostess received her guests wearing a handsome fur-trimmed, gold brocade Peggy Hunt original. Among the Hunts' guests were Vicki and Billy Malouf and son Gary who returns to Kansas City this week . . . Ethel and Jack Luccarelli (she with her leg in a cast), the Randolph Christies (they leave for South America this week) . . . Topsy and Harold Cooper, the Glenn Austins, Elvira and Don Bleitz, the S. P. Manasses . . . Arnold Rummwells, Lillian and John McClure (she just home from her around-the-world trip), Helen Kirk, Nellis and Al Hunt . . . Rita and George Irwin, the Earl Cordreys, Jan King, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis, Joe Del Mastro . . . Flo and Walter Brummark, and more . . .

Kay (Mrs. Clark) Gable brought interior decorators out to survey the Gables' new Bermuda Dunes home Sunday . . . flying them there by helicopter . . . The group was picked up in a field near Marion Davies Palm Springs home . . . and five minutes later landed on a practice-tee near the Gables' nearly completed $75,000 home at Bermuda Dunes Country Club . . .

The helicopter is to be a part of Bermuda Dunes' service to its members and guests . . . starting right after the third annual U.S. National Senior Open Golf Championship tourney which starts today at Bermuda Dunes . . .

Ray Ryan is expected back from his Mount Kenya Safari Club in British East Africa in time to catch some of the action in this $20,000 tourney . . .

'Symbolism' Topic for O.E.S. Talk

A program of unusual interest will be featured at the stated meeting of Palm Springs Chapter No. 576, Order of the Eastern Star, to be held Thursday, December 3, at 7:55 p.m., in the Masonic Temple, 1006 East Ramon Road.

John Vale, a member of the public relations committee of General Grand Chapter of the World and a Past Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter, State of California, now a resident of this area, will talk on Symbolism in Eastern Star. After considerable research to insure authenticity, Mr. Vale has prepared a talk which explains the meaning and significance of the symbols, emblems and rituals of the fraternal organization. It will be a privilege and a rare opportunity for members of the Order to hear this fascinating subject and the local Chapter is fortunate to have the honor of presenting Mr. Vale.

Worthy Matron Anita Dubin and Worthy Patron Willard McKinney will preside during the meeting. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Marylou Stuart and her assisting committee.

All members of the Order are cordially welcome to attend and they are urged to hear the very worthwhile program scheduled.

Birthday Is Celebrated Two Days Late

A picnic lunch in Tamarisk Park Saturday afternoon was a birthday celebration for eight-year-old Bobby Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sullivan of Sullivan's Market.

Since his natal day fell on Thanksgiving Bobby chose Saturday to celebrate so he could invite his friends.

Birthday cake and ice cream were served with lunch, followed by an afternoon of games which included football, baseball and darts.

Among those helping Bobby celebrate were Bobby and Donald Carmichael, Bobby and Dan Walters, Bobbie's brothers, Jim and Tim and his long time friend Freddie Kane.

Indian Wells Celebrates

The dark desert night made the stars overhead seem very large and bright, and the floodlights on the mountainsides back of the club, lent an illusion of moonlight, with black palm trees silhouetted against it, as guests approached the clubhouse. The ponds were inky pools of blackness, in contrast with the clubhouse which blazed with lights.

Standing in the lobby was a life-sized Santa Claus, with his suit snowy white as his beard except for his cloth of gold jacket and cap, and he was electrically operated so that he bowed to arriving guests. An aluminum-spined, white tree, bore golden fruit.

Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres were served with cocktails at the clubhouse, before members and guests proceeded to the hotel for dinner.

Vari-colored balloons decorated the banquet hall, where a towering three-tiered anniversary cake, with three candles in gold-ball holders, stood above a brass tray loaded with blue carnations. The Desi Arnaz Sextet played for dinner dancing, and on the piano was a bouquet of 13 carnations for the Susallas' anniversary. Big balloons over the tables bore the names of the club officials, Hicks, Susalla, Worthing, Curci and Johnson.

Among those at the anniversary dinner were: Mayor and Mrs.

Frank Bogert, Alice Faye Harris, the Chauncey Needhams, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Meyers (she was hostess for the evening), Peggy Lester, Harold Hicks and Mary Palmer, William Worthing, Mr. and Mrs. John Curci, Mrs. and Mrs. Lee Walls (she was Joanne Droste), Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pierce of Los Angeles (they are also Indian Wells owners and she is Gail Davis, Annie Oakley of TV), Mr. and Mrs. John Giecmara, Bart Prom and party (he is son of the Club founder Paul Prom), the Joe Dyers.

Also: the Earl Buckinghams, Ralph Singers, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kennellys of Beverly Hills, D. C. Stachlers, Earl Houghs, Bob Kesslers, Eric Staintons, the Erroll Murphys, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Harris, R. T. Piersons, F. C. Good-

Four Generations at Family Dinner

Four generations were present at the Thanksgiving Day dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. George Strebe Jr. at their Avenida La Paloma home.

Present were Mrs. Annie Bolon of Grand Marais, Minnesota, great-grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Folk, grandparents, and the Strebes' two children.

Tomorrow night, when MGM stages its west coast premiere of "House of Seven Hawks" at the Plaza Theatre, as a benefit for the Palm Springs Float Association, it will be the Village's first premiere in a couple of years.

Hollywood stars, searchlights, a street full of movie fans, and all the usual fanfare will accompany this bright new mystery film that stars Robert Taylor, Nicole Maurey and Linda Christian. It's a production by David E. Rose, who has a home here in Palm Springs. Two hundred of the choicest theatre seats have been reserved for Patrons and Patronesses at $25 each, and following the show this group will adjourn to the Desert Inn for a Santos-catered champagne supper in the Fountain Room.

Other seats for the premiere are selling for $10 and $5 each, and may be obtained at the Plaza Theatre, or across the street at the offices of Muriel Fulton, who with Barney Gengenbach, is a co-chairman of the event.

Among patrons already listed are Mr. and Mrs. Walt Disney, Mr. and Mrs. David Rose, Mrs. Ruth Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Small (producer of "Solomon and Sheba"), Mr. and Mrs. Zeppo Marx, Mrs. Earl Buckingham, Winsome Courtney, Mrs. Austin McManus, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrell, Mrs. W. Peggy Hunt Fashion Luncheon Draws Crowd

There's nothing like a fashion show luncheon to command the interest of the feminine part of Palm Springs, and when you arrange this in a magic combination that offers a first showing for a Peggy Hunt collection of resort clothes, in connection with Saks Fifth Avenue, and sponsored by WAIF, it was a foregone conclusion that El Mirador would be packed for the event. Wolf whistles from the men's whistle table, and the fragrant smell of Arpege from the table favors that were gifts from Saks, added special touches to the notable gathering.

Highlighting the show was a surprise showing of the one-of-a-kind gowns that this popular dress designer has created for the Automobile Premiere. There was a dream dress of nylon tulle encrusted with rhinestones and bugle beads, its full floating skirt like clouds of smoke.

Another glamor gown was fashioned of heavy white satin, with matching full-length coat, lined with dramatic black and with a black mink collar. Bands of crystal bugle beads added interest to the handsome, tight-fitting gown, that was to the floor.

There was an imported chantilly lace over silk crepe, with short jacket, in champagne which is a favorite Peggy Hunt color and with the nude marquisette top that is a trademark for her line.

Cocoa and mint green were combined in another dress with an elongated kick pleat and applied flowers in the same colors. These applied flowers are also recognizable as the Peggy Hunt touch.

One of the most exciting ensembles was the gold-on-white brocade, with a side train and exaggerated bow, that was worn with elbow-length gold gloves, and an autumn haze mink stole, lined in gold lame to match the gown.

Exciting as this finale was, it was her new resort collection, that was being shown for the first time, that held the intense interest of the smart crowd that filled El Mirador Room and the Garden Room, and drew whistles of appreciation from the double line of men at the wold table that was set up in the bar.

In an amazing price range from $35 to $145, it was a collection of chic and wearable gowns, combined with a few fur coats and stoles. These dresses ranged from one that is called the "Happy Traveler," because it is a basic linen that doesn't wrinkle and comes in all colors, to the gorgeous laces, for which Peggy Hunt is famous.

There were several ultra-feminine black cocktail and dinner dresses, of crepe and chiffon and lace and marquisette, sometimes in matching black and sometimes in the nude.

A turquoise floral on white gown had a floating panel from the waistline in back, and a boned neckline, assuring a perfect fit. There was an Irish Cluny lace in ecru and white; an Irish linen topped with silk linen lace; a black and white checked gingham, trimmed with white pique; and the frosty looking, completely delightful long white lace, slit in the front almost to the knee and with a flaring peplum made bouffant with under frills, and all dusted with glittering rhinestones.

There was also a long brocade gown with swishing fishtail back and shorty jacket with autumn haze mink collar.

Furs included a handsome full length coat of tourmaline mink, with enormous cape collar; a chin-chilla shorty jacket; a short leopard jacket with black mink collar.

Opening the show was an all white imported crocheted lace on silk crepe, rhinestone-studded, and with a luxurious and flat white fox stole.

Commenting the show was Pat Allen, from the Saks Fifth Avenue organization. Music during the luncheon showing was by El Mirador's Billy Allen and his orchestra.

The exciting door prize, a Peggy Hunt dress, went to Mrs. Walt Sibbert, who had her choice of three gowns, and chose the basic silk print.

Tex Kidwell welcomed the crowd, presenting Mrs. W. B. Malouf, general chairman, who introduced a guest at her table, Dr. Anne-Marie Bennstrom from Golden Door; her committee members, Mmes. S. P. Manasse, Walter Brunmark, Kenneth Kirk, Mary Hurrell, and George Gannon.

She also thanked Jan King and her mother Mrs. Ruth Kruidenier for the elaborate table decorations that carried out the "Isles of Enchantment theme."

Mrs. Glenn Austin, president of the Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF, told of the work that WAIF is doing, and said that in the short time it has been organized it has found homes for nearly 8,000 orphans. She introduced the founder of WAIF, movie star Jane Russell, who praised the work of the Palm Springs Chapter.

Also introduced was Joe Del Mastro, manager of Saks Fifth Avenue Palm Springs; Ve Weaver, head of the women's department; and Doris Fields of Beverly Hills Saks.

A sock finale to the whole show was the parade of the men from the Whistle Table, who were lead up onto the ramp by Joan McManus, who with Mrs. Walter Brunmark, was in charge of that table.

A SPUN LINEN in melon color, with applied flowers, and its own matching coat, lined in green, was modeled by Marilyn Simms of Los Angeles, and was typical of the matching costumes in Peggy Hunt's very wearable new collection of resort clothes. Shown with the model are, Ve Weaver, head of the Palm Springs Saks Fifth Avenue, on left, and Doris Fields of the Beverly Hills store, who coordinated the luncheon show at El Mirador. Over the festive Thanksgiving weekend, myriads of socialites filled The Racquet Club to overflowing. The Herman Ridders dropped in for cocktails, as did the Dolph Obergfels and the Earl Buckinghams from Thunderbird.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. McNabb of Los Angeles hosted a delightful group comprised of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Hollingsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hirsch of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Tullis, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Lakenan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rand, all of Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. LeMasters of San Francisco; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deutz of Mexico City.

Tuesday Weld

Skelton to Have 2 Guest Stars

Red Skelton has Tuesday Weld and Mary Beth Hughes as his guest stars when shrewish Clara Appleby does her best to pass off George Appleby as a mighty Hollywood producer, so that she can impress an old friend, in "The Red Skelton Show," Tuesday, Dec. 1 (The CBS Television Network, 9:30-10 p.m., p.s.t.).

George is the proprietor of a studio lot hamburger stand, but Clara has written her friends that he is a producer. When one of the old friends arrives in Hollywood and asks them to get her daughter Sally a screen test, George is put on the spot.

Tuesday Weld — the impish Thalia Menninger of CBS Television's "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" series — plays the star-struck daughter who wants a screen test. Mary Beth Hughes will play Clara Appleby.

The Skelton Dancers open the show in a production number backed by the music of David Rose and the orchestra.

Sherwood Schwartz, Dave O'Brien and Al Schwartz write the show, which is directed by Seymour Berns and produced by Cecil Barker.

GIANT KILLER HAS DIFFICULT TASK

Huck, who is the official giant killer of a small town, finds his usual methods unsuccessful when the town is bothered by the local giant and resorts to giant reducing pills to cut the menace down to size during KTTV's "Huckleberry Hound," Tuesday, Dec. 1, 7 p.m., Channel Eleven.

When he receives a call that the giant is on a rampage, Huck, who is secure in knowing his trade, devises special traps to bring the giant down. At each opportunity, Huck hammers the huge head — to no avail, for this is the hardest skull he's met in his giant — extermination career. Giant reducing pills save the day for Huck and he nonchalantly hums — "another day — another giant."

YOGI BEAR AND Boo Boo become invisible to stoke up on food for the winter in "Bear For Punishment." The Ranger gets one phone call after another about picnic baskets being stolen and Yogi and Boo Boo are having a wonderful time — invisibly eating up everything in sight.

18-YEAR-OLD KID BURNS UP TRACK

Lanoway Newest Ace In California Racing

By SCOTT BAILLIE, United Press International
SAN MATEO, Calif. (UPI)—Some call him "Gordy" and some "Canook," but "Mr. Icewater" is about the best way to describe apprentice jockey Gordon Lanoway.

Four Trojans on First Big Five All Star Team

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Southern California's champion Trojans placed four men on the first annual Athletic Association of Western Universities all-star football team, announced today by the five coaches of the organization.

Three from Rose Bowl-bound Washington, two from UCLA and one each from Stanford and California rounded out the squad.

There were no unanimous selections, but end Chris Burford, Stanford; guard Chuck Allen, Washington; and back Ray Smith of UCLA were the top vote-getters.

The selections were made by coaches Pete Elliott, California; Jack Curtice, Stanford; Don Clark, USC; Bill Barnes, UCLA, and Jim Owens, Washington.

SC and Bruins Open Basketball Season Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The University of Southern California and UCLA open their basketball season tonight when they clash in the dedicatory collegiate game of the new Sports Arena.

SC, a five-point favorite over its cross-town rival, had a 15-11 record last year and will have a squad bolstered by eight returning lettermen, including forward Johnny Werhas who led the Trojan scoring last year with 373 points.

UCLA has only five veterans returning to action, and coach Johnny Wooden has only one senior—guard Cliff Brandon—on his 15-man varsity squad. The team had a 16-9 mark last year. A freshman skirmish between the two schools will precede the major game.

Expect Olmedo to Turn Pro Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Alex (The Chief) Olmedo, the Peruvian tennis star who led the U.S. Davis Cup team to an upset victory over Australia in 1958, is expected to announce today he has turned professional.

Following the time-honored custom of amateur racket aces, Olmedo was believed to have agreed to sign on with promoter Jack Kramer's tennis troupe for approximately $30,000 to $35,000 a year.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Penn State quarterback Richie Lucas, who led his team to an 8-2 record this season, has been selected to receive the Maxwell Club award as the outstanding college football player of 1959.

Indian Cagers Open Season at Riverside Today

Palm Springs High School Indians open their 1959-60 basketball season this afternoon at Riverside meeting a strong Ramona High team in their first practice game.

Game time is 3:30 p.m. in the Ramona Gym.

Coach Jim Workman of the Indians will field a strong team this year including several lettermen, transfers from other schools and graduates from last year's strong B team.

And speaking of bets, when Lanoway goes up these days the price often goes down. That's the way the big tote board twinkles when a rider is hot.

AN 18-YEAR-OLD KID with tumbling brown hair and peaches and cream features, Lanoway has bounced home aboard more than 140 winners since last May 20 when he captured his first race at Vancouver's Hastings Park.

And the quiet little workman from that city has been setting local improvers of the breed on their ears for quite a spell. After cleaning up as leading rider at Golden Gate Fields, Lanoway moved his school girl complexion and old pro poohs across San Francisco Bay to Bay Meadows where again he is the top money-maker.

Lanoway, whose contract recently was purchased by horseman Bert Martin for $10,000, comes from a family which never paid any attention to horses.

"MY DAD NEVER was around a track," says Lanoway, who first got the idea of becoming a booter when 14. "And at first the family didn't like the idea too much of my riding. But now I'll stay with it as long as I can."

He weathered a spill at Golden Gate Fields without serious injury during the late meeting there and accepted the mishap in a matter-of-fact way that left many of the older jockeys talking.

"He plays it pretty cool," declares Jack Keene, a dapper veteran who also is studying to become a veterinarian. "And it's kinda unusual for an apprentice to stay as calm as he does."

AL SHELLHAMER, who got plenty of lumps as a jockey and now is a steward at Bay Meadows, also is enthused over what he terms Lanoway's "emotional stability."

"He has something," Shellhamer says. "And like the true athlete, he makes it look easy. He reminds you of the ease with which Joe Dimaggio would bring in a long fly ball."

What's made him so hot as an apprentice?

"Well, when you get a good horse that's about 80 per cent of the battle," Lanoway says and lets it go at that.

FIRED UP

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eddie Armstrong, 139½, Elizabeth, N. J., outpointed Chico Velaz, 134½, Puerto Rico 10.

ELIZABETH, N. J. — Harold Carter, 195, Elizabeth, N. J., outpointed Johnny Jenkins, 178, New York 8.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two world title fights, for the lightweight and middleweight crowns, top this week's unusually attractive boxing schedule.

Thirty-three-year-old Joe Brown of New Orleans is favored at 12-5 to keep his lightweight 135-pound title in a 15-rounder against England's southpaw Dave Charnley, British Empire champion, at the Houston Tex. Coliseum, Wednesday night.

Gene Fullmer of Jordan, Utah, is a lesser favorite at 8-5 to protect his NBA version of the world middleweight 160-pound championship against Spider Webb of Chicago in a 15-rounder at Logan, Utah, Friday night. It's a return bout, Gene outpointed the Spider, Sept. 11, 1958.

Both title fights will be televised nationally.

At London, Tuesday night, two international heavyweight bouts will be staged at Wembley Arena. Big Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N. Y., meets Dick Richardson of Wales. Neither is a ranking contender.

But in the other 10-rounder, England's Brian London, British Empire champion, meets big Nino Valdes of Cuba. Cooper is ranked fifth; Valdes, a former contender is unranked.

Field for Tourney Divided

Play in the third annual National Seniors Open Golf tournament got under way at 8 a.m. today with half of the large field of 540 seniors teeing off on two golf courses, Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado country clubs.

Half of today's opening group played at Bermuda, the other half at Eldorado.

Tomorrow, the second half of the field, also divided into two groups, will start play, also at Bermuda and Eldorado.

THURSDAY those who started today will reverse clubs and complete the round of 36.

Those who play tomorrow will reverse courses and complete their 36 holes Friday.

The final rounds of the 72-hole tournament will be played Saturday and Sunday with 40 lowest gross pros and 40 lowest gross amateurs alternating on the two courses for the final 36.

The second low 100 scorers will also play Saturday and Sunday. Both groups will alternate courses each day.

WILLIE GOGGIN of San Jose is the defending champion winning last year in the second annual event at Esmeralda Golf Course in Spokane, Wash. He carded a 270, winning over Gene Sarazen of Germantown, New York, by a single stroke.

Sarazen, who has tried twice for the top senior prize, is here to try for a third time.

In the first year, at Esmeralda in 1957, he finished in a dead-heat with Fred Wood of Vancouver, Canada, with a 270. He lost out in the sudden-death play-off.

GEORGE HOWARD, O'Donnell Golf pro for the last quarter of a century is president of the National Seniors Open Golf association. He is in charge of this week's tournament.

Assisting are Joe Moxel, vice-president, Green Hills Country Club, Millbrae, California; Olin Dutra, secretary-treasurer, and directors Johnny Dawson, Jimmy Hines, Robert Hudson, Dick Metz, Paul Runyan and Sarazen.

THE FIRST TOURNAMENT in 1957 attracted a field of 100 seniors.

This year, at Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado, 540 will play in age brackets 50-54; 55-59; 60-64; 65-69; 70-74; 75-79 and over 80.

The A. B. Kourne trophy and $30,000 in prizes are at stake.

Syracuse Holds Top Spot in UPI Gridiron Voting

NEW YORK (UPI)—Syracuse, which will try to complete the first perfect season in its 71-year football history when it visits UCLA Saturday, remained No. 1 today in United Press International's major college ratings.

Mississippi, Louisiana State and Texas remained 2-3-4 in the latest balloting by the 35 leading coaches who rate the teams weekly for UPI.

Clemson was the only newcomer in the top 10, advancing from 14th to 10th after ending its regular season last Saturday by defeating Furman, 56-3. Southern California, beaten Saturday by Notre Dame, slipped from seventh to 12th.

Georgia, which has been moving up steadily in the ratings, moved from sixth to fifth in the wake of its triumph over Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Washington, Texas Christian, Arkansas and Clemson rounded out the top 10 in that order.

Illinois headed the second 10 group. It was followed in order by Southern California, Alabama, Penn State, Oklahoma, Northwestern, Michigan State, Wyoming, Auburn and Missouri.

NBA ATTENDANCE UP

NEW YORK (UPI)—National Basketball Assn. President Maurice Podoloff announced today that attendance in the pro circuit is up 23 per cent this season.

Philadelphia (UPI)—Alabama will play Penn State in the Liberty Bowl game at Philadelphia Stadium Dec. 19, bowl officials announced today.

Alabama has a record of seven victories, one defeat and two ties, compared to Penn State's eight victories and two defeats.

RIDES FIVE WINNERS

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Frank Northcutt, a 17-year-old jockey from Covington, Ky., booted home five winners at Pimlico Monday and finished second on his other two mounts.

RUBY OF THE DUNES (Irwin Rubenstein), right, was among the 200 golfers who attended the Fall Round Up of Golf at the Desert Inn, Las Vegas. Others are, from left, Lee Wall, A. G. Kauer, Denver and Maurice P. Koch, San Francisco. The event was a major tournament staged for the non-resident members of the Las Vegas Hotel Country Club.

Orioles Outslip Giants in Initial Trade of Season

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Baltimore out-slicked San Francisco, the consensus said today, because Paul Richards "always knows what he's doing any time he gets rid of a pitcher."

The Orioles manager openly acknowledged as baseball's finest judge of pitchers, peddled two of them — southpaw Billy O'Dell and right-hander Billy Loes — to the Giants Monday night in the first major deal of the inter-league trading period.

In return, the Giants gave up outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Gordon Jones and a third player, catcher Roger McCardell, who will be sold to Miami and brought up by the Orioles when they get under the 40-man limit.

MOST CLUB OFFICIALS here at the baseball meetings felt the Orioles wouldn't have dealt away the 26-year-old O'Dell, a 14-game winner in 1958 and a possible 20; game winner of the future, "unless Richards knew something."

"A man like Richards never makes mistakes when it comes to pitchers," said General Manager Buzzy Bavasi of the Dodgers. "I can never remember him giving a good one away. He just doesn't operate that way."

The Giants weren't especially worried, though.

"WE HATED to leave Brandt go," conceded Vice President Chub Feeney. "The Orioles have got themselves an outfielder who can hit, run and throw, but we needed pitching and we think we got two men who will help us tremendously — O'Dell as a starter and Loes in relief."

Both the Orioles and the Giants insisted they were not through dealing.

And some of the other clubs were beginning to warm up. One of the deals said to be on the fire would bring shortstop Chico Fernandez from the Phillies to the Indians.

Brown Predicts He'll Knock Out British Fighter

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown predicted flatly today he would knock out British boiler-maker Dave Charnley in a hurry Wednesday night in his eighth defense of the world 135 pound title.

The battle, scheduled for 15 rounds, will be the television feature on the weekly Wednesday night fights, and Brown, from Baton Rouge, La., was the 12 to 5 favorite.

"I learned something going 15 rounds with Kenny Lane," Brown said, "and I proved it because other southpaws didn't go more than two or three rounds with me since then. I feel like I can take Charnley out in the same distance."

Brown's prediction that the bout would end in a hurry bore out the promise of the records of the fighters. Charnley, who has had only 39 fights compared to Brown's 103, has scored 20 knockouts in winning 33 times, and Brown has gained 35 of his 75 victories by knockout.

"MAKE UP YOUR MIND, SON..."

Much can depend upon a proper choice. Happiness . . . personal success or failure . . . financial gain or loss. So, as Pete's father knows, it is important that a boy learn how to make the right decisions. Pete has learned well. He chose between idleness and frequent "hand outs" from Dad and a profitable newspaper route, a growing business of his own. He chose between frittering his earnings away and saving a part of them toward a college education or something else really worth-while. He chose to stand on his own two feet—the pride of his parents and the envy of his friends. As a newspaperboy he is building solidly for the future.

with a NEWSPAPER BUSINESS of his own

DESERT HOT SPRINGS

Hospitality Service Starts

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

Mrs. Pauline Bayes, an employee of the Dorothy Walters hospitality service, is now stationed in our town and will devote most of her time to welcoming newcomers. Besides acquainting people with such community resources as churches, schools, civic and social groups, Mrs. Baye will present each family with a housewarming book filled with coupons exchangeable for free gifts at local stores. Mrs. Bayes would welcome a telephone call notifying her of new residents and can be reached at FA 9-5648.

Mrs. Ruth Klanck flew in from Chicago last week to spend two weeks with the Ferd Pedersons. Following Mrs. Klanck's visit, the Pedersons will leave for an extended vacation in Chicago where they will be the house-guests of their daughter and son-in-law, the Bud Booths, former Desert Hot Springs residents.

Dr. S. M. Marcus, noted Los Angeles psychiatrist, who has just returned from an extended European vacation, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. William DeLong at the Broadview Lodge. The DeLongs are former employees of Dr. Marcus, having managed an apartment house for him in Los Angeles for five years.

prior to coming to the desert.

Pop and Mom O'Hagan, veteran vaudeville entertainers and parents of Mae Branch, local organist, were here last Thursday to help Yola celebrate the fifth birthday anniversary of her Italian residence.

Hotel Burglar Grabs Up Paste, Misses Jewelry

Palm Springs' hotel burglar struck again over the weekend but this time his sharp eyes seem to have failed him.

Detective Lt. Robert White says the bandit who has netted more than $40,000 worth of loot in the past five weeks raided the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Son, of Encino.

Ordinarily, this highly selective thief ignores paste jewelry and takes "only the best," White reported — but this time he reversed his pattern.

He missed the real stuff, and took only costume jewelry. The net proceeds — about $60 worth of loot.

rant. As usual large crowds gathered to hear Pop and Mom sing the old songs and exchange repartee. Joining in the fun were the J. C. McGee's who were celebrating their 21st wedding anniversary with a family dinner party. Guests included the Jack Moreys and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tarbutton. At another table Mrs. Kay Koning, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace, George Gregg, John Pruner and an out-of-towner, Mrs. Ora McClain of Alhambra, sang happy birthday to Mrs. Si Warren who is 78 years young.

Among the 130 guests attending the Altman-LaVoe wedding at the Jewish Community Center last Sunday were Mrs. E. L. Lifof of Palm Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Altman, son and daughter-in-law of the bridegroom, and their son Peter of Hollywood, the Irving Altmans of Van Nuys and their children David, Susan and Jonathan. Also Mrs. Helen Cordell, president of the Los Angeles County Music Commission, Mrs. Mabel Gordon, the bride's sister from Palm Springs, and Mrs. Altman's aunt and uncle, the Jackson Harrisons of San Bernardino. Although several weddings have been held in the Center this was the first one in which both bride and groom were members of congregation Noye Shalom.
